Government Agents Start Intensive Hunt For Brains Behind Kansas City Shooting

SOUGHT TO FREE FRANK NASH

Bailey, Miller, Kelly And Underhill Believed Men Who Manned Machine Guns

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—The union station massacre at Kansas City of four officers and their prisoners will be completely avenged with the arrest of Richard T. Galatas, alias Dick Sheridan, who today is the subject of an intensive search by government agents, who will take him dead or alive.

Galatas, underworld boss of Hot Springs, Ark., was the master mind of the slaying of a Department of Justice agent, the chief of police of McAlester, Okla., two Kansas City detectives and their prisoner, Frank Nash, on June 17 last when an attempt was made by gunmen to take Nash away from the officers.

Division of Investigation agents under J. Edgar Hoover have completely solved these murders and have apprehended most of the persons involved.

Kelly Involved
It was charged by the government that George "Machine Gun" Kelly, Harvey Bailey, Verne Miller and Wilbur Underhill were the main members of the mob that actually did the shooting.

There were others, however, who contributed to the killings by advising the gang as to the movements of the officers.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 8.—America's beautiful blonde $400,000 heiress, the former Barbara Hutcheon of "5-and-10" heritage, was in the midst of San Francisco's social whirl today wondering where her prince would turn up.
"I'm sure, I hope, I mean I know he'll be here in time to sail with me Thursday," she said, with an expressive sweep of her hands and a little toss of her golden head.
The last she saw of the prince, his royal highness Alexis Mdivani of the former principality of Georgia, was when he dropped off her $120,000 private car at Reno yesterday upon receipt of word that in Sacramento, a couple of hours ride over the high Sierras into California, an investigator from the Los Angeles district attorney's office waited to interview him.

Says Prince Is Enroute
"The prince is coming right into San Francisco," the princess insisted with a determined quick little nod.
"But," she was informed by an International News Service correspondent, "a dispatch from Reno says (Continued on Page Two)

Case To Be Heard In Federal Court In Philadelphia; $10,000 Bail Given

(International News Service)
TROY, N. Y., Jan. 8.—From a cell in the county jail here, Mrs. Sarah K. Hobart, 52-year-old society matron and mother of six children, today was scheduled to walk to temporary freedom under $10,000 bail pending her appearance in a Philadelphia federal court to answer a charge of sending poisoned candy through the mail to her brother, a disabled war veteran patient in Coatesville, Pa.

Bail was to be posted this forenoon, it was learned, before U. S. Commissioner Clark Cipperry, before whom Mrs. Hobart was arraigned following her arrest here by federal agents and state troopers.

Mrs. Hobart, wife of Samuel G. Hobart, an industrial engineer, was indicted by a federal grand jury in Philadelphia and is scheduled to appear there Wednesday to answer the indictment. While members of her family refused to make any statement and Mrs. Hobart was in strict seclusion in her cell, it was learned she expects to leave here tomorrow for Philadelphia.

Several Made Ill
Mrs. Hobart's brother, Harrington Fitzgerald, Jr., and several attendants at the U. S. Veterans hospital at Coatesville became ill shortly after eating the candy, which was found to contain a large quantity of arsenic.

According to federal agents, Fitzgerald was heavily insured, with Mrs. Hobart and two other sisters as beneficiaries, and is said to have an estate valued at $65,000.

Federal agents said the indictment returned against Mrs. Hobart found the candy was mailed from Morristown, Pa., from which city the (Continued On Page Two)

Dry Forces In State Planning To Resume Fight

John A. McSparran, Summons Dry Leaders Of State To Convention Jan. 17

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Jan. 8.—Dry leaders in all Pennsylvania counties today received letters from John A. McSparran, state secretary of agriculture and chairman of the committee of nine which fought repeal of prohibition to a convention here January 17 to plan a future course of action.

It was believed the convention will scrap the committee of nine and supplant it with a statewide organization which will take an active part in the coming elections.

In his letter to the county chairmen McSparran said the 583,000 dry votes polled in the state in the last election constituted a "splendid result under the circumstances."

New Ambassador From Russia Is Now In Capital

Alexander Troyanovsky, Reaches Washington, Will Present Credentials

LAST LINK IN RECOGNITION

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—The last link in the resumption of diplomatic relations between the United States and Soviet Russia was being forged today as Alexander Troyanovsky, new ambassador from Moscow prepared to present his letters of credit to President Roosevelt. The new ambassador arrived in the capital late Sunday.

Troyanovsky is the first official representative of the Communist Republic to take residence in this country, and the first Russian representative since the fall of the Kerensky regime.

With Troyanovsky arrived William C. Bullitt, American ambassador to Russia, who returned from Moscow after making a preliminary survey upon trade conditions and other matters. Bullitt will make his report to President Roosevelt and then recruit the staff with which he will return to Russia.

Remodel Embassy
The new ambassador has taken temporary quarters with Boris Skvirsky, former Soviet agent in the United States, and now charge d'affaires of the embassy. Troyanovsky will occupy the embassy next month. It is being remodeled after standing vacant for 16 years.

Troyanovsky was one of the leaders in the economic reconstruction of Russia under the Soviets until 1927, when he was appointed ambassador to Japan. He spent five years at that post, returning to Moscow in 1933 to become vice chairman of the state planning commission.

He is 51 years old, married, with two children. His wife and family will join him here later.

Rivers At Pittsburgh Close To Flood Stage; Cold Wave May Check Danger

RAIN IS HEAVY OVER WEEK-END

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Jan. 8.—Heavy rains over the Monongahela and Kiskiminetas water sheds was expected to send the rivers in Pittsburgh to a crest of 22.5 feet, 2.5 feet below flood stage, late today.

The rainfall in Pittsburgh over the week-end totaled 1.01 inches. Approximately the same fall was general in the Western Pennsylvania area.

Colder Tonight
Possible damage anticipated in this region was the almost certain flooding of the Coffey dam of the government's new Montgomery Island lock and dam under construction in the Ohio river near Beaver. Machinery at the dam site has been removed but pumping out the flooding waters would entail several thousand dollars expense.

Sub-freezing temperatures predicted for tonight were expected to check the rising waters.

John Chaffey of Youngstown, O., has returned home after spending a few days with his sister.

Fugitive Being Hunted In Ohio

Neal G. Bowman, Notorious Escaped Desperado, Is Hunted In Southern Ohio

KIDNAPS SHERIFF BUT RELEASES HIM

(International News Service)
MARIETTA, O., Jan. 8.—Spreading into nearby West Virginia, one of the most intensive searches in the history of Southern Ohio was organized today for the capture of Neal G. Bowman, notorious desperado and fugitive from the Lima State hospital for the criminal insane his latest defiant gesture against law and order.

Aided by an accomplice, Bowman kidnapped Sheriff H. L. Partee of Vinton county, yesterday after the officer had taken the two into custody for questioning. Seizing the sheriff's car and holding the officer at bay under the threat of a pistol, the two bandits drove into Hocking county where they forced Partee out of the car and sped away, making their escape through a veritable gauntlet of armed officials.

Bowman has been at large from the Lima State hospital for the criminal insane since last Christmas Day when he overcame a guard and four other patients with a revolver and slipped away from the institution by making his way over the walls with the aid of a fire hose.

WORLD WIDE SEARCH FOR MISSING FRENCH FINANCIER IS ENDED

Missing Alexander Stavisky Is Found In Cottage; Suicide Attempt

FACING ARREST HE SHOOTS SELF

Charge That Huge Swindle Had Been Perpetrated By Stavisky

By WILLIAM PARKER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS, Jan. 8.—The worldwide search for Alexander Stavisky, missing head of the Bayonne Municipal Pawnshop, ended today at Chamonix, France, where the financier was found dying from a self-inflicted bullet wound in the head, according to the Surete Generale.

The first information given out by the Surete, the French secret police, was that Stavisky was dead. This was corrected a few minutes later, however, with announcement that the financier had shot himself in the head and that little or no hope was held out for his recovery.

Dramatic Climax
News that the search for Stavisky had ended in such a dramatic fashion came unexpectedly.

French authorities believed Stavisky had fled the country to escape prosecution for alleged fraud in connection with the collapse of the Municipal Pawnshop with losses to investors ranging between $25,000,000 and $60,000,000.

Earlier in the day, Premier Camille Chautemps, facing possible overthrow as a result of the Stavisky scandal, had ordered a thorough search of the records of the ministry of commerce in an effort to determine the truth of charges made in the Parisian Press that govern-

Soviets Believe War With Japan Grave Possibility

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Soviet Russia realizes war with Japan may come and is prepared for it, William C. Bullitt, America's first ambassador to the Soviet Union, said today.

Back to report to President Roosevelt on his brief visit to Moscow as American envoy, Bullitt confirmed reports that war clouds threaten the Far East.

"Soviet Russia," he said, "is sincerely striving to maintain peace. No country in the world, except possibly the United States, wants peace more than the Soviet Union. However, Soviet Russia realizes war may come and is prepared for it."

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Jan. 8.—Poor old France and Japan are about in the same fix.

France don't know whether it would be better to jump on Germany and lick 'em while they can, or "will I sit here and wait till they pounce on me?"

Japan is in the same spot. They feel they can lick Russia now, or will she wait till Russia is able to pounce on them.

This thing of living in an ambitious nation is not what it's cracked up to be. We are certainly glad Mr. Roosevelt announced that we had about all the country we wanted. In fact, he suggested that if we could get a decent offer, he would let some of it go.

They pass me by on flying feet and whizz right past my coat, they're in high gear as on they go, they nearly get my goat. They come to corners at full tilt and turn upon a dime, I look for spills and accidents and crashes any time. But somehow they are skilled it seems, these roller skating tads, and I must envy them, these rolling, strolling tads. The clatter drives the neighbors wild, the din is like a truck as on they go now fast now slow, and at a corner dund. I wonder if I tried the skates what would occur to me, no doubt a spill a damaged knee, and weather's forty three.

PA NEW OBSERVES

In an early Sunday morning broadcast from station WNBX, Springfield, Vermont, an orchestral number dedicated to Nick Casillo of this city was announced by his brother a member of Morris Davenport's orchestra of Bellows Falls, Vt. The broadcast was on from 2:30 to 4:30 a. m. Were you listening Nick?

A lady traveling across the United States on a motorcycle by herself was reported seen in New Castle Sunday afternoon. She was from Brooklyn, New York, she told a gas station keeper, and was headed for Los Angeles, where she has a brother. The motorcycle was not at all new to her, she added.

All the robins have evidently not gone south yet, as Miss Mary Catherine Jackson, of 815 Highland avenue, reported that a trio of the birds were perched in the trees back of their home all Saturday morning. They looked a little shabby in appearance, Miss Jackson stated, but could easily be identified as robins.

There will be no new detours added in the district on the State Highway system prior to February 1, according to the Detroit Bulletin, issued for the period ending on the above date. The bulletins have been issued twice a month, but evidently will appear only monthly during the winter season. The bulletin may be found posted in the lobby of The News.

Much more rain fell over the week-end than was recorded during the entire month of January last year. The precipitation on Saturday amounted to 1.60 inches, while on Sunday only 1.21 inches fell during the whole month.

CONGRESS AWAITS PRESIDENT'S PROGRAM

Democrats Have No Program Yet

Leaders Make No Announcement Pending Roosevelt's Direction

EXPECT FIRST MESSAGE SOON

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON International News Service Staff Correspondent WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—A patiently passive congress, occupying itself with minor matters, today awaited announcement of its major legislative program by President Roosevelt.

Democratic leaders in both house and senate frankly admitted they were unable to announce a program. They informed partisans and opponents they were waiting on the president to "send his program."

Some administration spokesmen predicted the president's first message would deal with the monetary question. It was reliably reported Mr. Roosevelt was ready to take a further step toward remonetizing silver.

Congress awaits President. While awaiting word from the White House, congress took up relatively unimportant questions. The senate had no program for the day other than confirmation of Henry Morgenthau Jr., as secretary of the treasury.

The liquor revenue bill, raising $150,000,000 by taxing alcoholic beverages, was considered by the senate finance committee in secret session. Democratic leaders hoped to report it favorably to the senate during the day, so debate may start tomorrow.

FIVE AND TEN HEIRESS WAITING FOR PRINCE IN SAN FRANCISCO, CAL.

that the prince and his lawyer and his valet and his lawyer's wife have taken off by plane for Salt Lake City.

"For where?" she queried, frowning, "you say Salt Lake City? well—" a smile replacing the frown, "he'll be here just the same when it's time to sail."

She labeled as "ridiculous" the report that she would go to Seattle to join the prince in boarding the Japanese N. Y. K. liner Tatsuta Maru on which she has engaged $5,000 worth of cabins for a trip to the Orient.

"But maybe the prince will board the boat at Seattle and meet you when you get aboard here," it was suggested.

I don't think so, was the reply. It was pointed out that the prince could thus avoid the Los Angeles investigator who was reported to have a subpoena to serve, which would call for the prince's presence in Los Angeles at the trial of his brothers, Princes David and Serge, on charges of alleged oil "raids."

The princess merely shrugged her white shoulders. The investigator, Harry Owens, made sure in Sacramento that the prince was not on the luxurious private car and said he would motor to San Francisco and wait.

Wants Statement "I just want to take a statement from the prince," Owens said. "I don't want to interfere with his trip, only a little statement on what he may know about his brothers' business affairs."

The princess gave International News Service a three-hour interview on her private car between Sacramento and Oakland and across the bay by ferry to San Francisco.

"No thank you," she waved a dark-skinned waiter aside in her car as he passed highballs. "I just can't stand the taste of liquor so I never touch it. Which, she laughed, "caused me no end of embarrassment in France."

"But I am smoking, took it up last September, had to have one vice with another broad smile."

The princess got her biggest laugh at her cousin, Jimmy Donohue, and a newspaper man.

The train conductor looked over the passengers in the private car, the princess, Donohue, Mme. Nancy Alford, the princess' traveling companion and former tutor, and the reporter, and then asked the reporter if he had a ticket.

"Why," said Donohue to the conductor and to the amazement of the reporter, "haven't you met the princess?"

The conductor backed out with apologies.

To Ask Council For More Hydrants

Citizens Club Discusses Need Of More Hydrants In Terrace District

At a meeting of the White Eagle Citizens club, held Sunday evening in the Polish Falcon hall on Terrace avenue, the need of more fire hydrants between Terrace avenue and Ralph street, Jefferson street and Morris street, was discussed.

Marion Kolodjeski and John C. Wajert, was named on the committee which will meet with council some day this week. At the meeting the men will ask council to look into this matter. The organization feels that in case of a big fire in this district, the fire department would be handicapped, due to lack of hydrants.

The men also claim that in the district mentioned above, there is but one hydrant. At the meeting last night, officers for the year were nominated. They will be elected at the next meeting, scheduled for Sunday, February 4.

NAME GALATAS AS MAN WHO PLANNED STATION MASSACRE

was found to be in Hot Springs, famous hideout town for mobsters from all over the country.

Dick Galatas "owned" Hot Springs and any criminal he knew was safe in that town.

Gangster Enraged When agents of the division of investigation arrested Nash in this Ozark town and spirited him away without even the local police knowing what was going on, Galatas felt that his prestige as a protection was at stake and determined to free Nash.

With Mrs. Nash he chartered an airplane and within an hour from the arrest was on his way to Joplin, Mo., he having been informed that the federal men had taken the automobile road toward that city.

Arriving at Joplin he went to the home of Henry Farmer and from there made numerous long distance telephone calls to Chicago and Kansas City. The Kansas City calls were direct to Verne Miller.

Made Phone Calls Miller was positively identified as one of the machine gunners in the slayings while other evidence pointed to Kelly, Bailey and Underhill. The nation wide hunt for these killers has never ceased.

Bailey and Kelly were taken in the famous Charles Urschel kidnapping case, and Verne Miller was put on the spot by Detroit gangsters and "washed up."

Wilbur Underhill was shot by federal agents and police when he resisted arrest at Shawnee, Okla., and he died from the wounds received. Mr. and Mrs. Farmer and Mrs. Nash were caught shortly after the massacre.

Dead Or Alive Today orders are out that Galatas, the master mind, must be taken dead or alive. But Hoover is determined this will be soon. When this underworld protector is in custody or in the morgue the case will be placed on the closed files.

It appears doubtful today that the government or the state will be put to the expense of ever trying this case.

Abandon Milk Price Fixing To Consumers

New Policy By AAA Will Be To Emphasize Prices To Producers Of Milk

DAIRY INTERESTS SHOW BIG PROFIT

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Virtual abandonment of the agricultural adjustment administration's effort to fix milk prices to the consumer was admitted today by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace in announcing a new policy on milk agreements emphasizing prices to producers instead. Enforcement of high retail prices proved "impossible," he said.

A broad dairy production curtailment plan also is being prepared for announcement soon as a part of the new policy, Wallace said. In his announcement he stated:

"Maintenance of high fixed retail prices to consumers, even with the enforcement powers of the administration, has proved impossible in the circumstances. The administration of course has no interest in interfering with the fair retail price or reasonable profit of any distributor anywhere but it no longer will use its powers under the adjustment act to relieve distributors of the forces of competition as they tend to correct unjustifiable profit-taking in milk."

Show High Profits Wallace intimated that examination of the books of various dairy interests had shown high profits. "The administration's new policy on milk marketing agreements will place emphasis on producer prices so as to help avoid delays that thus far have resulted from efforts to adjust conflicting interests on retail prices."

"The announcement virtually brings to an end the administration's attempt to employ its powers to enforce fixed resale prices charged by distributors to consumers," Wallace said.

He added that in addition to submitting retail prices to open competition again representation of the public on local milk control boards will be encouraged as a safeguard to the consumer as well as producer.

Dr. Frederic C. Howe, consumers counsel of the AAA, said he expected the new milk policy to result in lower retail prices.

WOMAN IS FACING CHARGE OF SENDING POISON IN CANDY

Hobarts came here several years ago. When it arrived at the hospital, the agents said, Fitzgerald, who was gassed in the World War, ate some of the candy. He died, and the candy was found to contain poison.

Moves Leading To Arrest Relating the government's moves leading up to the arrest of Mrs. Hobart, federal agents said the box in which the candy arrived at the hospital was first traced to Norristown, Pa., where it was found in the wrapper bearing a street address next to that at which the Hobarts lived in the Pennsylvania city.

Checkup then showed agents said, Fitzgerald's insurance and the three beneficiaries, all of whom were carefully investigated. Agents said they learned the Hobarts suffered financial reverses in the stock market crash.

Watch was established over the family, according to the authorities, and "the break" came when Mrs. Hobart took a typewriter to a repair shop to be adjusted. Agents said they obtained a sample of the work done by the machine before it was repaired, compared it with the address on the box containing the poisoned candy and also found that Mrs. Hobart used the sort of paper in which the box was wrapped. They presented the evidence to the grand jury in Philadelphia and the indictment was returned.

Deaths of the Day

James Watt. James Watt, aged 38, Cherry Hill, Croton, died Saturday, January 6, about 6 p. m., at the home of his brother, John R. Watt. He was ill but a short time and his death was most unexpected.

He was born in New Castle September 1, 1895, the son of John and Rose Watt and had been employed as a laborer.

He is survived by a brother, John R. Watt and a sister, Mrs. Hazel Walker of this city.

Mr. Watt was a World War Veteran, having enlisted October 5, 1917. He was a corporal in Company F 145 in the battles of Ypres-Lys, Meuse and the Argonne. He was wounded while in service.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday, January 9 at 2 p. m., from the home of his sister, Mrs. Hazel Walker, 1003 1/2 Moravia street.

Ernest L. Wilkison. Ernest L. Wilkison, 971 Bonnie Brae street, Youngstown, died Sunday at 1 p. m. after a two day's illness of pneumonia. He is survived by his wife, Louise Mann Wilkison, a daughter, Audrey, both of Youngstown, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilkison of New Castle.

The deceased was born in Lawrence County February 24, 1887. Since living in Youngstown he was employed as foreman of electrical linemen with the Municipal Railway. He was a member of South U. P. Church.

Services will be held at 1:30 p. m. Wednesday from the late residence with Rev. James A. MacDonald, officiating. Later the remains will be brought to New Castle for interment in Oak Park cemetery, arriving here about 3:30.

Andrew Allison. Andrew Allison, aged 94, died Sunday afternoon at the home of his grandson, Ralph McBride, 214 West Cooper street, Slippery Rock, after an illness of five weeks.

He was born in Lawrence county April 13, 1839, and had lived in Slippery Rock the past fourteen years, being a retired farmer. He was a member of the Baptist church.

May 1886, he married Susan E. McFarland, who died in January 1877; he later married Julian Humphrey, who died September 13, 1913.

He is survived by a son, Andrew Jr.; nine grandchildren and twenty great-grandchildren.

A short service will be held at the McBride home Wednesday at 1 p. m., followed by a service at 2:30 in the Zion Baptist church, with the Rev. Carl Jones officiating. Interment will be made in the Slippery Rock cemetery.

New Anglo-Italian Disarmament Proposals Will Be Discussed In London

MACDONALD ENDS HIS VACATION

(International News Service) LONDON, Jan. 8.—New Anglo-Italian disarmament proposals, understood to have been perfected during the recent conversations between Foreign Secretary Sir John Simon and Premier Benito Mussolini in Rome, headed the list of specific arms subjects tackled by Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald as he arrived in London today.

Returning from a vacation at his home at Lossiemouth, Scotland, MacDonald went directly to No. 10 Downing street to plunge into the arms talks. Sir John was to be his chief conferee.

The new proposals were understood to have been broached by Mussolini to Sir John, and he in turn was said to be presenting them to the British government for approval.

Thirty On Job At McCartney Hollow Demand 50 Cents Per Hour

Some difficulty arose on a CWA project at McCartney Hollow, Perry township, today when spokesmen of the thirty laborers employed on the job announced that they were going to quit unless they got fifty cents per hour. They have been getting forty cents per hour which is the rate established for highway work.

The McCartney Hollow job is one repairing a section of a dirt road in that district. Under the CWA rules labor is paid fifty cents per hour, while the highway jobs are paid forty cents per hour. This ruling was handed down at Harrisburg and the local CWA office is powerless to make any change.

Highway work has been turned over to the CWA which creates a rather anomalous situation. One group of men get fifty cents per hour and the other gets forty, although both are paid by the CWA.

DO WE NEED LYNCHING LEGISLATION?

NO SWORN official should condone or approve lynching, yet some have done so. The result is an anti-lynching bill in congress which would give the United States government the power to intervene when local or state authorities have failed to do their duty.

Supporters of the measure say that it would not deprive the states of any of their constitutional rights. It imposes a fine of $5000 upon any official who fails to exercise diligence in protecting those under his charge from mob violence.

Whether legislation of this kind is the best solution of the problem is open to question. But sound thinking people generally would welcome any proper move to stamp the disapproval of society upon an official who encourages lynchers.

HUEY ON THE WAY OUT

There seems to be little doubt that the undoing of Huey Long, self-styled "kingfish" of Louisiana politics and who made good for a while his boast of being boss, is on the way.

The senator, whose antics in and out of congress gave the nation something to laugh at a time when mirth was needed, apparently is not far from the inevitable fate that overtakes political bosses.

For some mysterious reason, the senate has appeared to be afraid of Huey. The investigation of political conditions in Louisiana which it undertook turned out to be nothing more than an empty gesture. No real attempt to get at the truth of conditions was made.

It recently was stated that a federal probe of the senator's income tax payments had been begun. Whether this will yield any results reflecting on Huey's honesty can only be determined when the inquiry is completed.

It is not upon federal moves, though, that Huey's removal from the public stage seems to depend most. The thing that carries the greatest threat to his power is the rebellion among Louisiana voters, which reached a head in the special election staged in the sixth congressional district by the anti-Long faction. Its candidate received a vote nearly three times as large as that given the Long candidate in the election previously held by the Long group. The house will have to decide which shall be seated.

Huey meanwhile is being kept busy trying to mend the breaches in his defenses. Reports tell of widespread desertions in the ranks of his supporters, some of his former lieutenants having broken relations with him. It may or may not be significant that the senator at this time announces his readiness to support the Roosevelt policies notwithstanding that the administration failed to give him any patronage recognition.

THE EHFA IS BORN

To the various agencies engaged in carrying forward the administration's recovery program has been added another by executive order. It is to be known as the Electric Home and Farm authority and is a subsidiary of the Tennessee Valley authority, which is directing the huge development project touching seven states in the Tennessee valley. The purpose of the newest organization, as outlined officially, is to encourage the use of electricity by farmers.

This will take the form of assisting in financing the consumer in purchasing standard electric equipment at low prices, and in seeking reductions in electric rates by agreement with the utilities, publicly and privately owned, so as to make the use of such equipment feasible for the average householder. Work will be pursued and research will be engaged in to further lower the cost of equipment and to make the latter better adapted to the needs of the average home and farm.

The latest organization probably will be known alphabetically as the EHFA. How many such groups there now are in the national government, few persons probably know off-hand. The Hoover commissions, at which the Democrats sought to poke fun during the last administration, were few and innocent things compared to the Roosevelt alphabetical aids. Eventually it may be possible to determine the sum total of the value of the work done by the latter organizations, and this should prove an interesting study.

SCHOLARSHIPS

One force for the advancement of knowledge and extension of education that is often overlooked by the rank and file is the scholarship. This is easily explained by the fact that few realize that in recent years the scholarship has become an institution of tremendous proportions.

More than 50,000 scholarships, worth more than $10,000,000, are awarded annually in the United States. They are financed primarily by state grants, endowments, organization endowment and outright gift and are awarded without restriction on the studies to be pursued, and the great bulk of them ask from the recipient in return. Most of them are offered to undergraduates, though the number of fellowships and similar grants for post-graduate work runs well into the hundreds.

In many instances scholarships alone make it possible for serious students to continue their studies and research work. In others they encourage scholastic and scientific endeavor. It is through these mediums that the scholarship endows the country with a fellowship of learned men and women and new addition to the fund of human knowledge.

WHY NOT SPEAK FOR YOURSELF, JOHN?

British newspapers are shocked into superlatives by our prospective nine-billion-dollar deficit announced by President Roosevelt.

They say:
"Prosperity by extravagance!"
The imagination boggles at the extent of the deficit.
"America is spending on a wartime scale."
"A gallant defiance of orthodoxy."
"An astronomical deficit."
"A government expenditure of a vastness without precedent."

In view of the fact that our peak debt indicated for 1935, is expected to be about $31,834,000,000, it is strange that the British newspapers do not point out that the British public debt is $38,500,000,000. When we reach our peak the per capita debt will be about $270. Great Britain's per capita debt now is $940.

THE GROUCH

The grouch doesn't know what to make of this world.

It irritates him. Men and women annoy him. . . . Children make too much noise. . . . Dogs bark. . . . Cats scream in the night. . . . Doors bang into him in the dark. . . . Crowds step on his corns. . . . This-ties sting him. . . . Germs attack him in cowardly fashion. . . . Pollen gives him hay fever. . . . Bulls hook their horns at him. . . . Even food disagrees with him. . . . History is a lie agreed upon. . . . The happy man is a fool. . . . The successful man is a thief. . . . Newspapers never tell the truth. . . . What seems to be never is. . . . When he wants to go on a picnic it rains. . . . If he goes to a movie it's a bad one. . . . A meek wife drives him crazy. . . . A self-willed wife would be worse. . . . Marriage is a tyranny, but bachelorhood is a loneliness. . . . Farming is a sad way to earn a living. . . . Working in the city is worse. . . . Flying is dangerous. . . . A boat ride makes him seasick. . . . Riding in a train is too slow. . . . Hardly anybody plays a good game of bridge. . . . You can't trust a friend. . . . Nobody has any respect for anything any more. . . . Hardly anything deserves respect any more. . . . The doctors are fakers. . . . The courts don't give you justice. . . . Office holders are idiots and the people who vote for them are worse. . . . What's a fellow going to do in such a world, so trivial, so twisted, so stupid, so vicious, so ridiculous, so irritating, so worthless. . . . Can you blame a fellow for being a Grouch?

No, not at all, Mr. Grouch. . . . But the trouble with you, Mr. Grouch, is that you take everything personally. You think you're the victim, but you're not. You think you're the hero, but you're not that either. . . . You're just one of us, after all. . . . You're not our judge, our creator. . . . Life wasn't made for you, you were made for life. . . . Your mother didn't train you right. She taught you to expect everything and you never grew up. You think you did because you earn a living and shave and have children. . . . But you'll never be grown-up—not all the way—until you get over the idea that life is a Personal Insult. . . . When you do that you'll stop getting fun out of being a Grouch. . . . But never till then, never till then.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

GETTING WARMER

The cycle of increasingly mild winters is to continue, if the predictions of Dr. F. E. Matthews of the American Biological Union prove correct.

Dr. Matthews, making a study of Arctic glaciers, finds that they are constantly receding, meaning a steady decrease in the volume of ice which it is believed, affects our winter temperatures. During the past year some glaciers have receded as much as fifty to seventy-five feet, Dr. Matthews reports.

How long this cycle will continue is not given us to know. We do know that in ages past ice has come down from the North covering everything half way across this country. That may happen again, but probably not during the life of any one now living. There will be ample warning if and when it does come.

HENPECK DE LUXE

Many husbands are looked upon as mollicollicious because they let their wives exercise so much influence over them.

Certainly a wife should have first consideration. A husband's greatest aim should be to make her happy and contented.

But some women demand so much that their husbands become servile and lose their respect among men. Men should mingle with men, just as women should not shut themselves off from other women.

But some women seem to get a strange hold on a man soon after marriage and hang on to that advantage like grim death ever after. A domineering husband makes his wife wishy-washy in matters that require decisions.

A dictatorial wife produces a mild-mannered, self-effacing man whose ideas and opinions are hard to get and certainly not respected by men.

Nobody puts such a man in a position of responsibility because he is lacking in the fundamentals of leadership.

Mrs. Married Woman, are you hindering the advancement of your husband?

Why did you marry him if you were not willing to look up to him, at least part of the time, as a man of good judgment?

ALIMONY: FEEDING THE ESTRANGED WIFE

Alimony can be called literally a "meal ticket" when we consider the original source of the word. It is borrowed from the Latin alimonia, "nourishment," sustenance," from alere, "to nourish." The primitive English meaning was "maintenance" or "the means of livelihood" a meaning which is now overshadowed by the use of the word in connection with separated couples.

AMBITION: A GOING ABOUT FOR VOTES

Even in ancient Rome candidates for public office went about soliciting votes. This activity was denoted by the word ambitio, "a going about, around." Ambition was derived from ambire, "to go about," which in turn was formed from amb-, "about" and ire, "to go." Since this activity indicated a desire for honor or power, the word ambitio came to mean the desire for official honors. This word has borrowed in French and English as ambition and its meaning broadened to denote the earnest desire for preferment or achievement.

The World At A Glance

Speculative New Year
Lehman in Tight Spot
World's Hopes in Headlines

By LESLIE RICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—The New Year began financially as the old year had ended—speculatively. Even the sponsors of various plans must admit that advance so far has been speculative. But, they could add it is only by experimentation that we progress to sounder foundations.

The difficulty lies—my "sound business" friends tell me—in that the experiments so far have been too heavily on speculative elements rather than on long-pull, slower, more effective changes.

LEHMAN Gov. Herbert H. Lehman of New York is in a tight spot. Tammany has little use for him. He was a Roosevelt man, put forward first by Alfred E. Smith, to whose campaigns he donated liberally.

Now, however, Postmaster General James A. Farley is insistent upon obtaining the New York governorship for himself—as a stepping stone (so he believes) to the presidency. There were inspired reports that Governor Lehman, a banker, would succeed William H. Woodin as secretary of the treasury. But Henry Morgenthau, Jr., was given that portfolio in his own right. Besides, Governor Lehman desires to remain governor. He is thorough, he is honest although no such liberal as was Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt or Gov. Alfred E. Smith (whose views now are changing).

Governor Lehman showed his strength when he refused to name John Patrick O'Brien, Tammany's worst "frost" as mayor, to the state supreme court bench.

O'Brien, on the other hand, as among his last acts named several of his cronies to lucrative long-time jobs, including judgeships within his jurisdiction. Tammany went out displaying its bantons openly, shamelessly—flaunting its corruptions to the public.

HEADLINES This is the time of year when financial editors gather opinions from all parts of the world. Here are a few choice headlines, served up as bulletins.

CHICAGO—Restrained hope the dominant note; all inland communities see grounds for expecting betterment in 1934.

PARIS—Economic facts reassure, money ideas dishearten.

CHICAGO—West looking hopefully ahead; exhausted stocks of merchandise replenished and sold at a profit.

PITTSBURGH—Slow gain expected in steel; miscellaneous consumption now the mainstay.

NEW ORLEANS—Ground for courage in the cotton belt; acreage curtailed and rise in cotton; prospects for working off carry-over.

AMSTERDAM—C of I d-payment countries not to be forced off; no wish to follow America's example.

BERLIN—Germany hopeful, despite Hitlerism; weakening of Nazi control not expected, but reviving world trade anticipated.

LONDON—Europe suspends judgment on our NRA experiment; question of restored confidence.

BERLIN—Recovery in America—belief that real recuperation was stopped by currency uncertainties.

BERLIN—No sign that barriers will be relaxed in nation's trade.

LONDON—England in a year of slow recovery—the budget, the gold standard and the apprehension about America.

PARIS—France will maintain the gold standard; considers forced abandonment impossible; Paris watching America hopefully.

AMSTERDAM—Near future may depend on America; Europe hopeful for 1934, but apprehensive regarding currency experiments in the United States; slow recovery expected; Central Europe sees better things.

NEW YORK—Investment group in hopeful mood; bankers see worst behind them; security act criticized; new law held to retard needed financing.

NEW YORK—General optimism reported by bank; National City summarizes the outlook for early part of this year; gains believed lasting; hopeful views of business men confirmed by latest developments.

RACKETEERS Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia will not be able to drive out all the racketeers from New York. It is impossible. For example, to get a better seat at the theater, if there are some empty ones down front, an usher will take 25 cents per Racketeer has become an accepted "profession" in New York.

PROGRESSIVES Large American cities are falling into the hands of progressives. Among those now in the progressive category are New York, Pittsburgh, Boston, Detroit, Milwaukee and Cincinnati (rated best of all, with its city manager).

Cleveland recently turned completely reactionary.

Chicago continues bad.

BRITISH British businessmen still believe that the United States has gone "socialistic." Britain, today, is the nation of "inherited wealth." At that, if its taxes were applied in the United States, business would cry "Confiscation!"

FRENCH France may limit the number of Jewish refugees from Germany. A French senator says "They become neither citizens nor soldiers." There is no refugee for the German Jew. He cannot even wander.

Captive Mine Statements Are Heard By Board

Labor Controversies Are Aired Before National Labor Board

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Smarting under the strong assertion of the U. S. Steel Corporation that it has no authority to compel nine operators to make contracts with representative of the United Mine Workers of America, the National Labor Board devoted the greater part of today to listening to similar labor controversies in ten other "captive" mines.

The board will consider the testimony and reach a decision within a few weeks. Senator Wagner, of New York chairman, may ask President Roosevelt for a statement of the agreement he made with the mine operators and the miners last October.

John L. Lewis and Philip Murray, president and vice president of the United Mine Workers, respectively, argued in the controversy with the Steel Corporation's subsidiary, the H. C. Frick Coke Co. that the agreement provided for the operators to recognize whoever their mines elect to represent them in "collective bargaining" with their employers.

Nathan L. Miller, counsel for the Steel Corporation, insisted before the board the president's agreement did not mean the company was compelled to make union contracts. He said his corporation will negotiate working agreements with its own employees only and will not recognize Lewis and Murray, elected by some of the Frick mines to represent them as officials of the union.

The union's argument was strengthened by recovery Administrator Hugh S. Johnson. He told the board his recollection of the agreement was that the operators would recognize their official titles whoever their mines elected to represent them, whether those elected be Lewis, Murray or any one else, but admitted "it was a difficult question."

because of the many agreements made since the Pennsylvania Miners strike.
The operators won a champion in the recent report of Walter C. Teagle, president of the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey, a member of the department of commerce business advisory council, when he stated his committee's belief "collective bargaining" of workers under the codes should be negotiated by actual employees in the plants, and not by outsiders. Teagle did not mention by name the controversies in the "captive" mine over this issue.

Italian Club 1934 Officers Are Installed

Installation Ceremony Of Casa Savoia Officials Sunday, Is Impressive

Impressive in every detail, was the installation ceremony of the 1934 officials of the Casa Savoia Society, Sunday afternoon in the Casa Savoia hall, on East Home street.
The following officers who will serve during 1934 were installed by Michael Covelli who was in charge of the exercises: Anthony Quintilano, president; Joseph Pagley, secretary of finance; John Mash, secretary of correspondence; Alfonso Scrazzo, treasurer; Dominick Fruto, welfare committee; Sam Maracetti, Anthony Panella, Anthony Farone, Andy Mastern, Guy Frangazio, trustees.
Angelo Ginochi, parade marshal; Thomas Palmiero, Carm Dragano, flag bearers; Salvatore Isabella, Jas Bobbino house committee; Jaspero Rotunno, janitor; Pasquale Pagley, house master.
Following the installation of officers, brief speeches, which proved most interesting were made by the following: Attorney Joseph Leta, Jr. Joseph Pagley, Cosmo Galasso, John Cassachia, Frank Gillett, Anthony Quintilano, Mike Covelli, Angelo Ginochi and Anthony Vilani. The different reports read by the officials showed that 1933 was a successful year for the Italian Club.
Following the meeting those present enjoyed a party. Refreshments were served by Louis Perrotti, Pasquale Pagley, Frank Spinelli, Patsy Nero and Patsy Frenkel. The next regular meeting of the Casa Savoia Society will take place on Sunday afternoon, February 3.

Croton Sodality 1934 Officers Are Installed Sunday

Rev. Albert Farina, Addresses Croton Club At Meeting Sunday

Rev. Albert Farina, assistant pastor of the St. Vitus church, delivered a most interesting address to the members of the B. V. M. Sodality of Croton, Sunday afternoon.
Officers for the ensuing year, who were elected recently, were installed during the course of the meeting. The new officers who will head the Croton Blessed Virgin Mary sodality, are as follows: Victoria Micco, president; Annetta Morgan, vice president; Elizabeth Massaro, secretary of correspondence; Elizabeth Latoria, secretary of finance; Lena Mails, treasurer; Teresa Scilla and Violet Pla, master of ceremonies.
The Croton B. V. M. organization was organized about two years ago, and is composed of close to 75 members.

Gaston Post To Have Open House

Plans Will Be Furthered For Aiding Local Veterans On State Bonus

PROGRAM WILL BE FEATURED

Open House, with a program and lunch, will be offered the veterans of the city on Tuesday evening by the Perry S. Gaston Post, American Legion, and a large turnout is expected.

Commander R. L. Boyd extends an invitation to all vets to be present, particularly those who have been unable to meet their dues for the coming year.

Speakers will explain the provisions of the new state bonus measure, signed last week by Governor Pinchot, and of steps which have been taken to aid the veterans in applying for their bonus.

Membership is now being stressed by the post, and it is hoped to be over the top with an increase in the post's membership by January 13, when the state roundup is held. All posts must report their membership to state headquarters at this time, and Gaston Post expects to be one of the posts in the state who will have shown an increase in membership by that time.

TWO CUT IN KNIFE BATTLE

Perchnovic In New Castle Hospital; Bakuhn And List In Jail

Police today were trying to ascertain full details of a knife fight that put Marco Perchnovic, 511 Galbreath, in the New Castle hospital. As a result of the investigation which had not yet been completed at noon, Tony List and Alfonso Bakuhn were held in jail on a charge of suspicion. Makuhn also received a cut on his right hand. They had been at Bakuhn's home, 13 Fulton street.

About 9:30 p. m. police were notified a badly wounded man was in Moravia street near Gardner Avenue viaduct.

They found Marco with slashes alongside his nose, a cut on his chin and a slash behind his left ear. He was hurried to the hospital and the search for his assailants got underway.

Bakuhn was arrested and the jailing of List followed.

Today List pleaded ignorance of the cutting in police court. However, it is suspected he participated in the fight.

The mayor and chief of police ordered Bakuhn and List held pending a complete investigation.

Condition of Perchnovic is favorable to hospital attendants.

Furniture Dispute Is Heard By Court

Case Of Mary E. Bradford Against Her Husband, D. Roy Bradford On Trial

The case of Mary E. Bradford against D. Roy Bradford, and the Keystone Furniture company, party defendant, was taken up for trial before Judge James A. Chambers at the county court this morning. It is one growing out of a writ of replevin for household goods.

It is claimed that after Bradford built a new house on Leasure avenue, he had given his wife certain furniture. Later domestic difficulties arose and the couple separated. When a writ of replevin was issued by Bradford for the furniture, Mrs. Bradford claimed it on account of the gift, which it was alleged was made on October 6, 1929.

Mrs. Bradford claims that Mr. Bradford thereafter had frequently referred to the furniture as belonging to her, and hold her to get it out of the house. The Keystone Furniture company, which claimed a balance due on some of it, was given the right to intervene as a party defendant in the suit which is now on trial.

Damages Asked In Automobile Case

Suit Of W. J. Welker Against Charles F. Morrow On Trial At Court

When common pleas court convened this morning the case of P. J. Welker of this city against Charles F. Morrow of Wampum, in which he is asking $1,285 damages for injuries received in an automobile accident, was taken up for trial before Judge R. L. Hildebrand.

Welker claims that he was crossing from the west to the east side of Liberty street on February 2nd 1933, when he was struck by a car belonging to Morrow and driven by Clyde H. McKim. Welker had four ribs broken and was otherwise injured. He claims that the car was being driven at a high and dangerous rate of speed.

The defendant denies that the car was being operated in a negligent manner. Of the amount asked $1000 is for pain and suffering and the balance for hospital and doctor bills.

TWO CONTAGIOUS CASES

Katherine Withrow, 13, 304 Pine street, has chickenpox and Arnold Naples, 10, 604 Pearson street, has scarlet fever, according to city health reports.

Milk Pickets Battle Police

Tension In Chicago Milk Strike Is Heightened By Outbreak In Wisconsin

SEVERAL INJURED IN PITCHED BATTLE

(International News Service)

RACINE, Wis., Jan. 8.—Tension in the Chicago milk strike reached serious proportions today after a night of violence in southwestern Wisconsin during which pickets engaged in three battles with police and deputy sheriffs.

Officers employed tear gas bombs, clubs and the threat of machine gun fire to disperse swarms of pickets.

Several Injured

In the most spirited engagement of the night at Sturtevant, near here, several men were injured when 300 strikers battled police in an effort to seize a refrigerator car on a Milwaukee road express train. The strikers rushed the car, but were repulsed when officers threatened the mob with drawn guns and finally tossed tear gas into its midst. Forty automobile loads of pickets pursued three milk-laden trucks as far as the sheriff's office in Burlington. There the crowd threatened to storm the jail until deputies brought forth machine guns and promised to open fire.

Instead of discharging Wilson today in police court, Mayor Mayne told him that "it is against the law to have 'moonshine' in your possession."

Both were returned to a jail cell. Henderson until the police can find out what he was doing with the "moonshine" and Wilson for having "moonshine" in his possession which is contrary to law, according to the mayor.

CANNOT SELL WITHOUT BOND

Mayor Places Ohio Salesman Under Arrest Here Today

Mayor Charles B. Mayne has good eyes, likewise good ears and being the head of the police department, he exercised his rights today and placed under arrest an Ohioan who was peddling goods here without having first registered with police. Neither had he placed a bond of $500. The man was taken to the police station where he had the law explained to him and he arranged to secure a bond.

The mayor saw the truck, spoke to the man, heard a sale being consummated then told the man he was under arrest. Officers were summoned and the man was taken to the police station.

Ashes Placed To Protect Autoists

Making Plans Also To Secure Return Of All City Tools

Director of Streets B. F. Butler today made it plain that should snow fall and the paved hills become icy autoists can expect to have hills ashed immediately.

Ashes for the North Hill have been placed on a lot near Shenango street and ashes for other paved thoroughfares have also been placed nearby. Butler has notified the police department to call Commissioner H. M. Moore or his assistant immediately and trucks and men will be able to give immediate service.

Butler has also arranged to have a systematic check made of tools of the city used by employees returned to the city toolhouse when the city sends men to projects.

When men receive the tools they sign for them and if they are not returned the cost of the tools will be deducted from their pay, he stated.

State Liquor Store Is Open

Quite A Large Number Of Customers At Store Saturday Night

NEW CASTLE STORE WELL ORGANIZED

New Castle's state liquor store opened Saturday night, Jan. 6, in spite of the fact that no public notice had been given of the opening, and approximately 250 customers stopped in for a package. No information is available on the total sales, but it is estimated that not less than $1,000 went into the state till for liquor between 6:45 and nine o'clock p. m.

As the customers moved along the railing they were given price lists which showed the brands and prices of the stock on hand. No salesman is permitted to recommend a particular brand and the customer who doesn't know what he wants has to make up his mind from the price sheet furnished.

Some After Closing

At nine o'clock Saturday night there were 15 customers in the store and these were taken care of. Twenty-five or 30 more arrived at the store after nine, but were refused admittance. As the state rules make it mandatory that the store close at nine.

Immediately following the closing the taking of the inventory started, this being a weekly requirement of the control board. The store force worked until after midnight getting the inventory completed and completing the reports of the sales made.

Some complaint was heard on the prices of bonded whiskies charged. American bonded ryes run from $3.30 to $3.75 per pint, while imported Canadian, Scotch and Irish whiskies are selling for as low as $2.10 per pint and up to $4 and $5 per bottle, which is a fifth of a gallon.

The lowest prices charged are $1.15 per pint for blended American liquor and $1 per fifth for domestic gin. There are no imported gins in stock yet.

There was no disorder whatever Saturday night at the state store. Customers were handled at the rate of about one every 30 seconds, with no delay apparent. Manager Louis Gunton had his men so placed and trained that the crowd was handled with ease.

According to inspectors and truck drivers who have visited other state stores, the New Castle store is one of the very best in western Pennsylvania. In size, in arrangement and in handling it ranks with the best.

Girl Baby Named After Roosevelt Taken By Death

Death Takes Della Henry, Year-Old Pittsburgh Member Of Triplets

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Jan. 8.—Death of the girl member of a set of triplets named after President Roosevelt east of the home of James V. Henry, unemployed steel mill worker, in gloom today.

One year old Della Henry, named in honor of Franklin Delano Roosevelt's middle name, died of pneumonia.

She and two brothers, Franklin and Roosevelt, were born the day before the president made a campaign speech here in 1932. Hearing of their names, Mr. Roosevelt sent their mother the following letter: "Many congratulations to you and your husband on the birth of your triplets. We all appreciate the names you have given them."

Ohio Young Man Given Sentence

Daniel Holsinger, Of Portsmouth, O., Given 60-Day Jail Sentence

(International News Service) INDIANA, Pa., Jan. 8.—Daniel Holsinger, 28, of Portsmouth, O., was fined $10 and sentenced to 60 days imprisonment in Indiana county jail on each of two charges to which he pleaded guilty here today.

Holsinger, who gave his name as Daniel Howitt, 28, of Johnstown, when arrested, admitted larceny of gasoline and carrying firearms in violation of the state law. Judge J. M. Langham ruled the sentences would run concurrently.

Holsinger was arrested after driving away without paying for gasoline he purchased at a Blairsville service station.

Violence Occurs Near Chicago In Big Milk Strike

Arrangements Made To Supply Hospitals, Invalids, Infants And Schools

CHICAGO IS CITY WITHOUT MILK

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—Embattled dairy farmers over a 100 mile area enforced with bitter violence today the blockade that has effectively shut off the milk supply of Chicago and its suburbs. Authorities resorted to tear gas and clubs to quell outbreaks of violence.

All general milk deliveries to homes in the Chicago region were suspended, so complete was the blockade enforced by thousands of pickets who swarmed highways and battle against deputies armed with clubs and tear gas. Five thousand milk drivers were notified not to report for work.

Emergency supplies were made available to invalids, hospital patients and infants. Leading dairies promised that milk would be supplied to the public schools for the children's lunches.

While the strike tightened its hold about the city and clashes between picketing farmers and police became more numerous officials of the pure milk association, which called the strike, moved to effect a peace. The association boasts a membership of 18,000 producers.

Officers made a compromise offer to accept a basic price of .85 per hundredweight in response to a plea for settlement made by Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace. The former price was $1.10 per hundredweight, and the dealers had demanded a 70 cent reduction from this figure.

Milk Destroyed
More than 600,000 quarts of milk were destroyed in a 24 hour period by pickets who seized trucks, stopped trains and poured kerosene and gasoline on milk shipments.

Violence raged in the Racine and Kenosha areas of southern Wisconsin. Three hundred pickets stormed a Chicago bound Milwaukee road train west of Racine, but were beaten off by police and deputies with clubs and tear gas bombs.

Pickets made an unsuccessful attempt to derail a Chicago and Northwestern railroad train near Kenosha with and obstructed the train and looted in the high-of-way. Railroad crews hastily dismantled the obstruction before any damage was done.

No More Piles

You Can End Your Awful Misery Quick Without Cutting or Salves

Thousands of Pile sufferers do not know that the cause of Piles is internal—bad circulation of blood in the lower bowel.

This is the scientific truth about Piles—the real reason why salves and suppositories do not give permanent relief, why cutting does not remove the cause.

Your itching, bleeding or protruding Piles will only go when you actually remove the cause—and not one minute before. External treatments can't do this—an internal medicine should be used. HEM-ROID, the prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonard, sold by good druggists everywhere, succeeds because it stimulates the circulation, drives out congested blood, heals and restores the almost dead parts.

So why waste time on external remedies or worry about an operation when Ecker's Cut Rate and New Castle Drug Co. invites every Pile sufferer to try HEM-ROID with guarantee of money-back if it does not and their Piles, no matter how stubborn the case?

Slayers Die In Rockview Chair

Two Slayers Are Electrocuted Early This Morning For Killing Girl

COURT FIGHTS UNSUCCESSFUL

(International News Service)

ROCK VIEW PENITENTIARY, BELLEVILLE, Pa., Jan. 8.—Frank Stabinsky and Anthony Tetrosky, Ashley, Pa., youths, paid the supreme penalty in Pennsylvania's electric chair this morning for the murder of Miss Mary Malinowski. The executions were completed shortly after 7 a. m.

The men went to their fate after losing battles to the state supreme court for a new trial and an attempt to have the state board of pardons commute their sentences to life imprisonment.

Tried separately, the two men were convicted of murdering Miss Malinowski during a robbery of her home in November, 1932.

Fight Unsuccessful.
They fought desperately to escape the death penalty. The supreme court refused them new trials and then their counsel made a move to have the state pardon board confine them to prison for the rest of their lives.

The board flatly refused to do this and Gov. Gifford Pinchot failed to intercede in the condemned men's behalf.

It is expected to have in the neighborhood of a hundred men present at the initial meeting next week.

Finds Smaller Egg Inside Large One

One of the most unique eggs ever seen, is on display in the lobby of The News. A pullet leghorn belonging to Ralph McCormick, of the East Brook road, laid the egg which has amazed numerous persons who have seen it.

Mr. McCormick discovered an unusual large egg on his farm recently and brought it to William Bratz, who put it on display in his store on Croton avenue. The size of the egg is 9 1/4 inches long and 7 1/2 inches wide.

One day, curiosity got the better of Mrs. Bratz who was determined to crack it to find out what was in it. Mrs. Bratz discovered another egg inside of the shell of the big one. The huge egg contained almost a big glass of egg white and a big yoke.

The "egg-in-egg" exhibition can be seen in the lobby of The News, where it will remain for the next few days.

Knee Cap Is Split By Fall on Road

An X-ray examination of Thomas D. West, who was injured by a fall on the Harlansburg road last Friday, shows that his injuries are more complicated than at first supposed. The X-ray showed that Mr. West's knee cap was split. It will require a week or ten days for the swelling to go down, and it is believed that an operation will then be necessary. Mr. West is at the Jameson Memorial hospital.

Local Man Tells Of California Flood

Earle E. Johnston Is An Eyewitness To Recent Disaster In West

Tournament Of Roses Parade Beautiful Sight Despite Rain

Earle E. Johnston of 408 Fairmont avenue, who was in Los Angeles during the Tournament of Roses and witnessed this spectacle, along with the disastrous flood, recounts both events in a letter to The News, as follows:

Dear Mr. Rentz:—

Being an eye-witness to one of the most beautiful and magnificent sights and also one of devastation and destruction I have ever seen, I thought you might appreciate an account of both of them. The two sights I refer to were the Tournament of Roses parade and the flood in the Los Angeles district.

The parade, said to be the finest yet, was marred by a heavy rain, but according to tradition here, nothing short of an earthquake could stop that. It was the longest parade in history, being six miles in length and included 75 major floats. There were 1875 men marching and riding and 22 bands. The estimated number of blossoms used in the construction of the floats was five million.

The theme of this year's parade was "Tales of the Seven Seas" and the floats were so carefully and artistically constructed along the lines of the theme they actually seemed to be rolling along the wet streets like real ships on a real sea.

Of course it would be impossible to give a word picture that would do justice to the beauty of the floats. They were simply beautiful. The City of Glendale float portrayed Admiral Byrd's base in Little America and the icebergs were made of white pom-poms and one of his dogs was included in the float.

Another outstanding float was one of King Neptune, driving three life-sized sea horses drawing a huge floral shell containing 30 beautiful girls. The horses were made of white sweet peas and orchids, while the shell was made of roses on the outside and different colored sweet peas on the inside.

It would be impossible for me to describe each float for you, but I wish I could. The floats were all on display following the parade at Tournament park and I was able to see them all there. It is a sight which only those who have witnessed can fully comprehend the beauty and artistic work it represents.

The flood on the other hand was just as gruesome as the parade was beautiful.

Starting Saturday evening, it rained continually until Monday afternoon and in that time about 12 inches of rain fell. It was the most rain ever recorded at one time since 1877. Twenty bridges have been swept away and 700 homes totally destroyed. The death toll has been heavy.

The recent forest fires in the district have left the hillsides bare of vegetation which might have retarded the water and prevented much of the damage.

Thousands of cars were flooded trying to get through the flooded streets and had to be abandoned and in some cases were wrecked or buried in mud and debris. Railroad and trolley service was halted and practically the only form of transportation was by airplane, owing to the fact that the airport is on high ground. All roads to the north and east were closed due to washouts and high water.

The police and fire departments turned naval and went about parts of the city in boats, rescuing people stranded in their homes. A street car was washed complete off its tracks and turned over sideways in the street. Over 3,500 telephones were out of order at one time.

So, Southern California with the quakes, forest fires and floods, has been the victim of the elements the past year. I'll take New Castle for mine.

That is the best I can do now, without going into a detailed account, so will close and I might add a Happy and Prosperous New Year to you and the members of The News.

EARLE E. JOHNSTON.

AROUND CITY HALL

Building operations in the city during 1933 were slow, according to statistics compiled by Building Clerk Neal Williams. The total cost of new construction and remodeling is given as $321,535. Included in this is $210,000, for the postoffice. There were 16 new homes built, at a cost of $34,800. Thirty seven small garages cost $9,440 and eight new service stations cost $11,000. One storeroom cost $10,000. There was other small construction jobs. Remodeling costs, included in the $321,535, totalled $43,225.

First one thing and next, another thing to worry parents and bother the police. During the heavy snow-fall the police had to chase sledriders from different streets because they persisted in hooking sleds to automobiles. The snow having disappeared, police reports state that some of the more daring of the roller skaters have commenced catching hold of spare tires and being dragged by automobiles, a dangerous practice that must be halted.

Were one to start walking the length of the sanitary and storm sewer systems in New Castle, he would be pedalling along on his own velocity for about five days. In the city there are 89 miles of sanitary sewers and 20 miles of storm sewers. According to estimates given by persons in charge of sewer work here there are about 1,000 manholes and catchbasins. Councilman Butler has asked that no one except city employees open a manhole. Many of them are of the old type and the ordinary person does not replace them properly and accidents occur.

Cy Horner, former chief of police, now a city detective has a sense of humor that crops out only rarely. However, Saturday a prisoner stood before the mayor. Apparently he did not want to answer questions. No, he did not remember where he got his first drink Thursday and could not recall whether it came from a bottle or keg. "Perdier about some of these fellows. Some of them get drunk, punch a policeman on the nose and don't know anything about it the next day," said Horner, meaning that a chap doesn't want to remember anything except what is most advantageous.

Brice Is Named To Look After Interest Of War Veterans

Commander R. L. Boyd of the Perry S. Gaston post, No. 343, has received notice of the appointment of Alderman James C. Brice as a member of the state employment committee, with jurisdiction in Lawrence county. It will be Brice's duty to care for the interests of the ex-service man in the matter of employment and to see that where he is entitled by law to preference that he gets it.

A meeting of the state employment committee of the Legion will be held Friday and Saturday in Harrisburg, which meeting Alderman Brice will attend. It will be presided over by M. J. Kane of Alliquippa, state chairman. All unemployed veterans are asked to register at the office of Alderman Brice on North street.

On Court House Hill

One of the local industries that does not appear to have been hit by the depression is that of the reproduction of species. No strikes or lockouts have shut down the plants, and all the wheels seem to be moving with clock-work precision. A case in point came to the attention of the county commissioners the other day when a woman came to ask aid, help, or what have you. She was the mother of ten children. They are all at home but one, a son, who is in the employ of a forestry camp and sends home $25 per month. This, the woman said, was all that they had to live on. Her husband, who by the way, it was learned is uneducated, has been out of work for some time. She was directed to have him go to the CWA headquarters. This is but one of many cases where relief has been sought by families ranging all the way from eight to twelve children, so that anybody who imagines that there is any depression in family, incorporated, is very badly mistaken.

County assessors who are making their returns to the county commissioners office are following out the suggestion of county commissioners and are making the returns as to the description of properties on separate blanks, instead of writing them in the books on which the returns are made. Under a new law assessors are required to give the boundaries of properties which they assess. This would have required considerable writing in the books, and would have taken more time than to put down the descriptions on the blanks. When the clerks in the county commissioners office prepare the duplicates, showing the assessments upon which the tax millage will be based for the next three years, they will write in the descriptions after each property. Some of the assessors report that they have had considerable trouble in following out the new provision of the law. This is especially true where the owner of the property assessed does not reside on it. Often it is necessary to visit all the neighbors in order to get the boundaries of a farm.

Some discussion is going around as to what might be done with the old court house, provided that the county commissioners decided upon getting another site. The building is really in a good state of preservation, the main contention being that it is not large enough to accommodate the requirements of the county. Suggestions have been made that it might be taken over by the city for a city building. There would be ample room for all the offices, and the jail would take care of prisoners. Another suggestion that has been heard is that it be used for a public library. There would be ample room for all the books, and there would be two good court rooms in which public meetings could be held. The court rooms are probably the only ones in the building that are amply large for all purposes.

There is general rejoicing on court house hill over the return of a gray squirrel. Several squirrels, which made their homes in the big maple trees, disappeared last fall. It was feared that that they had fallen a prey to the big bad dogs and cats, that infest the neighborhood, but when one of the squirrels put in an appearance Saturday, abject apologies were made to the dogs and cats. Everybody wanted to know where the squirrel had been, but it refused to answer. An alternative mandamus was suggested but upon the advice of Janitor Clifford James this action was abandoned. "Where the squirrel has been is irrelevant and immaterial" said James "what we should do is to give it the big glad hand." So saying Mr. James sought the bag of corn which Ivor Davis had presented to the county commissioners for squirrel food. An ear of corn was placed on a bench at the foot of a tree. Pretty soon the squirrel grabbed it in its mouth, carried it up twenty-five feet to a fork in the tree, and there deposited it. County Commissioner Elmer Connors, who was watching, says that the squirrel fastened the ear so tightly in the fork of the tree that it did not fall out when the squirrel began pulling off the grains. The marvelous thing to those who saw the feat was that the squirrel could carry a big ear of corn up the bare trunk of the tree.

CWA ROAD MEN STRIKE OVER WAGE

FRANKLIN, Pa., Jan. 8.—Sixty Rocky Grove residents, engaged in CWA work on a road project, voted to strike because they are being paid only 40 cents an hour instead of 50 cents the rate paid on other CWA projects in this vicinity.

At a mass meeting the group voted to protest immediately to Harrisburg and to write President Roosevelt of what they claim is "out-and-out discrimination".

ROBBERS LOOT PHILADELPHIA LIQUOR STORE

Large Quantity Of Rum Stolen

Thieves Make Escape Few Moments Before Police Arrive

STORE ENTERED VIA SKYLIGHT

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 8.—Gaining entrance through a skylight, the only unbarred access to the building, two robbers early today raided a state liquor store containing liquors valued at thousands of dollars. With their departure hastened by the screaming sirens of police cars, the robbers escaped a few moments before police and detectives arrived on the scene in West Philadelphia.

Thieves Get Truck Load
In the absence of a detailed check up of stock, authorities could not determine how much of the store's liquor had been stolen, but there was evidence indicating the thieves had carried away at least a truck load of the most valuable brands. Police were notified of the robbery by Mrs. John G. Howstetter, a resident of the neighborhood, who saw two men—one short and the other tall—climbing from the skylight of the one story structure. Unable to locate employees of the store, police entered the building through the broken skylight. They found the place in disorder. The liquor bins, however, had apparently been untouched as evidence indicated the robbers had taken their loot from stock piled at the rear in cases.

Hope For Peace In Mining War Near Johnstown

Peace Elements Claiming As Much Ground As "Belligerents", Walkout Averted

LET ME TELL YOU FRANKLY HOW "VENDOL" WILL BENEFIT YOU

Come To New Castle Drug Co. And I'll Convince You That Vendol Will Quickly Put Your Stomach, Liver, Kidneys, Bowels And The Blood In Good Condition

I am conscientious in asking you to come and let me tell you how my great new medicine will benefit you. I've seen it help so many people that it makes me feel good all over every time I sell a bottle because I know I have done some man or woman a good deed.

If you are not feeling your best, you cannot afford to ignore my invitation to hear about this medicine. This is an opportunity to regain your vitality, to feel strong, happy, healthy and full of energy, to appreciate once more what it means to eat a hearty meal, enjoy it and have no bad after effects.

If you suffer from acid indigestion, sour stomach, heavy feeling in the pit of your stomach, heartburn, water brash, and other symptoms of stomach disorder, you'll find prompt relief by taking my medicine.

If you feel tired out, draggy, have no energy, feel as tired and worn out in the morning as when you retired the night before, Vendol will end it.

You may have a sluggish liver, or bowels may be constipated which brings on dizziness, headaches, spots dancing before your eyes. Your tongue may be coated and your breath foul, but these troubles are quickly relieved.

claiming as much ground as the "belligerents".

Uncertainty of the status came when the failure of many mines to operate on Saturday balked the proposed strike of some 800 miners in the Johnstown district "house coal" tipplers. The walkout was to have taken effect on that day, but the mines remained idle voluntarily. Reports were that a meeting called to rescind or approve the strike called at the beginning of the year failed to reach a decision, and that many of the miners are now opposing the strike.

Officials of district No. 2 of the United Mine Workers, of which the Johnstown "house coal" local is part, have announced they would not authorize the threatened strike pending negotiations with the operators, re-scheduled for February.

Aged Father And Co-Workers Rescue Youth Trapped By Coal And Slate

(International News Service)
JOHNSTOWN, Jan. 8.—Stanley A. Jagoda, 20, today was indebted to his aged father and several co-workers at the Royal Mine of the W. J. Coal Company for his narrow escape from suffocation after being buried under tons of coal and slate.

The Senior Jagoda and fellow employees locating Stanley by his moans dug frantically with their hands for fully five minutes until the lad's head was uncovered to give him air. They dared not use tools for fear of striking his face, but continued clawing away with bleeding fingers until the entire body had been extricated. Although crushed under the head and body, Jagoda was discharged from Uniontown hospital after treatment when physicians said his injuries were not serious.

Woman's Death Is Being Probed At Pittsburgh

Police Investigate Death By Noose And Razor Blade; Half-Nude Body Found

SUICIDE THEORY IS INVESTIGATED

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Jan. 8.—With several clues pointing to murder by strangulation, police made a thorough investigation today of the death of Mrs. Mamie Brockett, who died in a noose of her own stocking in a shed at her home. Her throat had been slit with a razor blade. When discovered by several children, the woman's half nude body was lying on the floor, the stocking either having torn or been cut by a razor blade which rested a short distance away.

Screams Heard. Neighbors of the woman, a widow, told authorities they heard screams, sobs and groans but were afraid to investigate. An autopsy revealed the woman died of strangulation and her contorted features indicated death came slowly. A tentative report of suicide was made by detectives.

Returns Alive From Supposed Gangland Ride

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—John French, 35, who returned alive from a gangland ride to accuse two men as his would-be slayers, remained in a critical condition today with four bullet wounds in his body.

On the basis of the amazing story told by French, police arrested Edwin F. Cusack, a suspended policeman, and James McCarthy, former business agent of the Trucking Drivers' Association.

French accused and identified the two prisoners before he was wheeled into the operating room at Cook county hospital. Left for dead in the Little Calumet river, French said he "played dead" by lying in the water until his assailants departed. For a half hour he remained in the icy waters afraid to move. The men had shot him and then chased him down the bank where he stumbled into the river.

To the denials of McCarthy and Cusack, the wounded man declared "So you thought I was dead? Well, I fooled you."

HORTON'S 34 SALUTE

"Another year is here to use as we will," Scout Executive H. G. Horton wrote today in The Lawrence Lookout monthly bulletin of the Lawrence County Council addressing a New Year's message to all the county troops.

The one just past saw about the most trying time the council has passed through but the line has held scores of our leaders have been found faithful to their trusts and all things look better for the year 1934.

To the county scout leaders he sent that classic signal of the fleet: "Well done."

SEYMOUR IS COMING

Regional Director Roy F. Seymour of the Boy Scouts, located at Philadelphia will come to New Castle to be the principal speaker at the annual meeting of the Lawrence county council on Thursday, January 25.

LECTURERS ANNOUNCED

Speakers for the remainder of the "Principles of Scout Leadership" lectures at Westminster College now well under way, were announced as follows today:

Thursday, January 11—Rev. W. L. Wishart, Sharon speaking on "The Relation of the Troop to the Parent Institution."

Wednesday, January 17—Dr. G. S. Bennett, speaking on "Scout Advancement and Vocational Guidance" and Dr. Levi H. Beeler, Grove City, speaking on "Scouting Applied to Life."

Wednesday, January 24—Regional Chief Roy F. Seymour, Philadelphia, speaking on "The Challenge of the 10 Year Program."

Prosperity in our opinion, has t. t. c. and today, when we see the sign "Back at one o'clock" the temptation to scribble "What for?" is not nearly so strong as formerly.

Kipke Ready To Sign As Coach Of Yale Eleven

Financial Offer From Yale Is Suitable To Harry Kipke; Michigan Worried

WILL TAKE HIS THREE ASSISTANTS

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—Harry Kipke, top hand of the big ten football coaches, is so close to signing a Yale contract today that a scratch of the pen may be said to measure the difference. He's so close, in fact, that Yale is believed to be ready to hire about half of his Michigan staff, including Jack Blott, Franklin Cappon and Wally Weber, in order that the young man may be at that he's among friends.

The deal, if closed, will call for a total outlay of about $25,000 in salaries, with Kipke's naturally figuring as the major item.

Ready To Sign.

The authority for these statements is not necessarily mine. It's largely Yale's and if, in the light of later developments, it turns out that a mistake has been made, that will be largely Yale's, too. It has gone pretty far with Kipke this time.

As for Kipke, it can be that he's been peeping out from behind drawn blinds when the Yales come around to call, for Michigan, which I believe operates on a state appropriation basis, doesn't pay him enough to make such a fashionably. It is my understanding that he gets $6,000 a year at Ann Arbor and, while Fielding H. Yost is supposed to be trying to persuade the authorities that something very handsome should be done for Kipke, the fact is that Yost himself does no better than nine thousand a year as athletic director and I know coaches who get twelve, fifteen and better.

So Michigan's idea of handsome is liable, by contrast, to look a little eccentric to a young man who is therefore, may go through at any time now, especially since Michigan does not have its coaches under contract and they can feel free to pack up the goldfish and go.

Golfers Tie In Miami Tourney

(International News Service)
MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 8.—Willie Dow, 48-year-old local veteran, will meet Ralph Stonehouse, young Indianapolis pro, in a playoff for the Miami open golf title today.

The two completed the four rounds yesterday with an aggregate of 279, one stroke ahead of Tommy Armour of Chicago. Gene Sarazen was fourth with 283, a stroke ahead of Phil Perkins, the former British amateur champion.

Next in line were John Kinder, Asbury Park, and Ed. Williams, Cleveland, at 285, one stroke ahead of Joe Turnesa of New York, who had a stroke margin on Willie McFarlane.

CARTER AND PAYNE HELD IN CITY JAIL

Jodie Carter and Wilbur Payne, two of the five colored youths, arrested Saturday morning on suspicion of attempting to steal gasoline are still in the city jail, the other three having been discharged. The five were taken into custody after it was alleged by police they were seen in the rear of an uptown bakery. An empty can and hose were found by police.

LOCAL BOY TRIES FOR STATE TEAM

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Jan. 8.—Jack E. Stevenson of 1214 Highland avenue, New Castle, is listed among the fifty candidates who reported for varsity basketball at Penn State this year. Stevenson is a candidate for a forward position.

Westminster Team Hands Glenville Teachers Severe Drubbing

WESLEY BENNETT IS HIGH SCORER

Westminster's Titan band of basketball players were too good for Glenville Teachers Saturday night at the Westminster College gym at New Wilmington and came out of a fast game leading, 56 to 24.

Wesley Bennett, the big center, was the high-point man with 17 points, through the medium of having caged six field goals and five fouls, while Billy Doiglass, captain of the Titans, had 12 points and Ray Sweeney had 10 points.

The Glenville team started off with a bang and had a lead of 6 to 4 with seven minutes of the first half gone. Coach John D. Lawther took out two of his regulars and sent in Sweeney and Willits, and the complexion of the game changed immediately

First Semester Will End Soon

Students of Benjamin Franklin junior high school are on their last lap of the journey through the first semester—and the approaching promotion furnishes food for plenty of talk.

The semester ends January 25. There will be no final examinations unless the teachers should desire to prepare them for their respective classes. This is according to the usual junior high school policy.

Stock Market

Rather Listless

Main Body Of Stocks Hold Their Ground In Trading Today

By LESLIE GOULD

International News Service Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—The market was listless today with the main body of stocks showing no disposition to do anything but hold their own around Saturday's closing levels.

The commodity markets, with the exception of cotton, tended to be adversely influenced by the strength in the dollar and the action of the Reconstruction Finance Corp. in holding the gold price at $34.06, the price established on Dec. 18. Wheat and the other grains after opening slightly higher ran into scattered selling and eased fractionally.

Motor shares continued to display an uncertain trend as Chrysler met with a consistent dribble of offerings and held fractionally under Saturday's final price. General Motors and a number of the lower priced motor shares absorbed offerings in good fashion and gained fractionally. Auto accessory shares were quiet and steady.

New York Central and Atchafalpa gained fractionally. Strength in American Telephone which ruled about a point higher brought a firmer tone into the utility shares including Consolidated Gas and Public Service.

Oil shares were under a moderate pressure throughout the session as traders continued to be apprehensive over the likelihood of the gasoline price war now raging in Brooklyn and Long Island spreading over the east.

Chemical, liquor and gold mining shares were quiet and steady. Tobacco shares were quiet.

The specialties including Douglas Aircraft were strong. Douglas gained fractionally to come within striking distance of its year's top.

League Lead Is Taken By Office

Inspection Is Given 35-28 Set Back In Thrilling Game Saturday

FINISHING NO. 1 BEATS MECHANICS

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 8.—An unexpected complexion materialized in the Shelby League Saturday evening at the Ellwood City News Co. when a here-to-for mediocre Office team presented a bolstered line-up that defeated the favorite Inspection quint 35-28, before a large excited crowd. In the second game the strong Finishing No. 1 team met with some unexpected competition from the Mechanics whom they defeated 29-22.

The result Saturday carries out previous predictions when it was stated that the league this year showed promises of being one of the fastest in years. No less than three of the six teams are strong title contenders. The Cold Draw and Mechanics are bound to step in for an up-set now and then.

The first game was as close and thrilling as anyone could expect. The Office five bolstered with Joe Rieley and Joe Gardner in the line-up, gave the present title holders inspection something to think about. The initial stanza ended in an 8-3 deadlock. The Inspection passers put on a spurt in the second stanza and at half-time lead 17-14. The Office team came back with a vengeance in the ensuing period and outplayed their opponents 12-9 to make the score stand at 26-11 at the close. The final chaser was fought desperately by both teams. The Office with a fine passing attack and defense outplayed their rivals 9-2. The Inspection was unable to score from the court. It was the splendid performance of Boone, Elder and Januzzi that was responsible for the Office victory. Fitzgerald and Lattiano were outstanding for the losers.

Finishing No. 1 found the going tough in their game with the Mechanics and had to use every resource at their possession to win the game. Although they never lost the lead during the game, they were close pressed at all times. The score at the end of the first period stood at 4-1 in favor of the Finishing, 13-1 at half-time, 19-11 in the third quarter, and 29-22 final. Barnes was the chief cog in the Finishing's offense acquiring 14 points and 10 rebounds. The remainder of the line-up broke into the scoring before the game was over. Reese and Arnold were the best bet for the losers.

Two more games will be played at the Shelby auditorium tomorrow night.

Plans Approved For High School

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 8.—Members of the Wayne township school board approved plans for the proposed new high school, which were submitted by their architect, Mr. McCandless, when they convened in the Hopedale schoolhouse for their regular January meeting.

The plans have also been approved by the state board of education at Harrisburg. A committee which had been appointed to select a location site for the new building has been unable to definitely agree and the question will be left to a vote of the members of the Tax Justice league of the township, which will meet this evening in the basement of the Slippery Rock Presbyterian church.

Approval has been given by CWA authorities for a project which includes the painting of the interior and exterior of the Park Gate schoolhouse. The other project, which includes the grading of the lawn, making a playgrounds and banking a wall, will get under way during the early part of this week at the Park Gate school.

United States Plans Increase In Export Trade

American Exports To France Will Total About 300 Per Cent By Agreement

(International News Service)

PARIS, Jan. 8.—Conclusion of negotiations between the United States and France whereby American exports to France will be increased approximately 300 per cent was announced today.

The new arrangement will be based on quotas announced on May 31, 1932. Apples, pears and some other American commodities already have been included in the negotiations, which were carried on in Washington.

The new arrangement, it was understood, nullifies recent action taken against American products by the French government, as a result of which the United States refused to grant France an increased liquor quota.

According to a brief announcement by the American embassy, the new quotas will go into effect immediately.

Negotiations for increased American exports to France were launched last week, immediately after the French government made public a list of projected quotas on various commodities, thereby inviting foreign governments to make bargaining offers.

Splawn Named As Commission Member

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—President Roosevelt today nominated Walter M. W. Splawn, former president of the University of Texas, to be a member of the interstate commerce commission.

Splawn will fill the vacancy created when the term of Ezra Brainard expires this month, and his appointment will bring the Democratic membership of the commission to six, compared with five Republicans.

Splawn makes his home here, and has acted as counsel for the house interstate and foreign commerce committee.

The president also sent to the senate the nominations of William H. Howes of South Dakota to be first assistant postmaster general, and Harlee Branch of Georgia, to be second assistant postmaster general.

In addition to these three new nominations, the president sent up more than a hundred recess appointment nominations.

ROTARY TAKES UP TIMBER PROJECT

Club Committee To Sound Out New Suggestion—Talk Business Today

Development of local farm acreage which Lawrence county has acquired by law for delinquent taxes into potential forest land — land which would not be left to wither under the blasts of the elements — may become a reality as a result of action taken by the Rotary Club at its luncheon today.

After Attorney W. Walter Brahm had broached the suggestion to the club, President Ralph Bolinger named Mr. Brahm, Dr. C. C. Green and Rex Patch as a committee of three to interview the county commissioners to discuss the merits of such an undertaking.

Mr. Brahm, during the course of his announcement, emphasized the need for care for unused farms and cited them as a fine place to develop new forest land.

Rotarian Rex Patch, representing the club's knocker committee—and how they knock—unreeling a list of humorous New Year's resolutions which he declared other club members would do well to heed in 1934. Patch's report was the highlight of a period of more serious committee reports.

The president's national ball of January 30, an event planned in honor of President Roosevelt's birthday, was announced during the meeting.

Indication that the Rotarians prefer local speakers to out of town orators for their program was given when the clubmen, in a ballot on the best program for 1933, chose the November meetings—planned by Dr. C. C. Green, Clare Book and Rudolph Stadelhofer—as the best. In that month Gilbert Colnot, Joel S. McKee and Dr. G. S. Bennett representing local groups, spoke.

One should learn to enjoy the realities of the present moment because there are no other realities. Yesterday is a memory and tomorrow is a dream.

Church Packed As Dr. Alley Speaks On Hitler's Rule

College Orator's Message Is Delivered Sunday At First M. E. Church

NAZI LEADER ACTS REVIEWED IN TALK

Predicting that Germany's future will not be "the great thing that her past has been" unless Chancellor Adolf Hitler renounces the "mad mood" which seems to be controlling him, Dr. Alden G. Alley, long a history professor at Dana College in Newark, N. J., and a student of international affairs, speaking at a public mass meeting in the First M. E. church on Sunday afternoon told how Hitler won his country and where he is leading her to.

Dr. Alley paying his second visit here for a public address, was greeted by a crowd which taxed the church auditorium and a large section of its Sunday school assembly room. Judge James A. Chambers presided over the program.

Citing two outstanding reasons for Mr. Hitler's apparent attitude—the "mad mood" he called it—in his rule of the country, Dr. Alley went on to explain that Germany's road since the World War has been a much more rugged one than has ours or many another nation—even though we did experience a dreaded depression. And because of that he said the nation was ready for almost anything.

"Economic misery and the injustice inflicted upon Germany by the victors of the World War" asserted Dr. Alley, "are the two reasons as I see it, that led the country to the support of its new leader—particularly has it attracted the youth which are symbolized by the Nazi storm troops."

The speaker told his audience that Germany contends that it was betrayed following the World War by what it believes to have been a treaty breach, and that this helped to dismay the country. Hitler's coming, his "almost demon-like" power over the emotional side of his countrymen, Dr. Alley went on to say, won him their support.

At one point Dr. Alley stated that Hitlerism has its noble aspects as well as its evil ones—but "a brutal movement and an inhuman one" were the words Dr. Alley chose to describe his chancellor's dictatorship. He warmly denounced his anti-Semitic policy and his suppression of free speech and the freedom of the press. Because they are not free, he declared, Germans are no longer free men—and no nation with "those at the top doing the thinking for them all, can survive" the speaker exclaimed.

Concluding, the Newark professor said Hitler's own attitude has cost Germany the friendship of every nation, except possibly Japan, and he pleaded for America and the other powers to be prepared to make war impossible should Hitler ever decide to embark upon one.

Dr. Norris White, pastor of the First M. E. church read the scripture and pronounced the opening prayer yesterday while the Rev. C. S. Joshua of Croton M. E. church spoke for the Lawrence County County Council of the Cause and Cure of War, the organization sponsoring Dr. Alley's visit. He also gave the benediction.

A musical feature of the meeting was a vocal solo, "How Beautiful Upon the Mountains" which Miss Ruth Drescher sang.

Dr. Alley who spoke at Slippery Rock following his address here, is delivering a series of lectures in the city today.

SEED POTATO CROP SETS NEW RECORD

More potatoes were certified in Pennsylvania for seed purposes in 1933 than in any season since the work started 13 years ago. K. W. Lauer, bureau of plant industry, Pennsylvania department of agriculture, reports. Fifty-eight growers in 18 counties produced 137,165 bushels of certified seed.

The amount raised in Lawrence county was 875 bushels, the department reported.

Younger Brother Of Late Slain Volpes Caught With Moonshine Whiskey And Gun

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 8.—Joseph Volpe, 19-year-old brother of the three Volpes who fell before gang guns in this city's tragic underworld massacre, today was being held by police following his arrest by a state highway patrolman when a revolver and 30 gallons of moonshine whiskey were found in the car he was driving near Center, Pa.

Young Volpe and a companion, Carmine Marzo, 22, were to be charged today.

According to State Highway Patrolman A. A. Regdon, arresting officer, the arrest was made when he stopped the car to check the license of the driver and discovered the contraband.

Volpe is expected to be charged with possession of liquor upon which the state tax has not been paid.

Face Raw From Eczema Is Quickly Healed By San Cura Ointment

It matters not how old or persistent the case is—try San Cura Ointment. San Cura Ointment has not only relieved but often healed some of the most stubborn cases.

"My face was as raw as a piece of beefsteak from Eczema and in a short time it was healed. I used nothing but San Cura Ointment and Soap." Wm. Weagraff, 4200 Huntington Drive, Los Angeles, Cal.

"I had a rash similar to Eczema which was terribly uncomfortable and annoying. After several months of doctoring with medicine and quartz lamp treatments which gave no relief, I used San Cura Ointment and in a couple of weeks the rash all cleared up. My baby had Eczema on his face and San Cura Ointment cleared it up as nothing else had done." Mrs. H. W. Davis, 1517 E. 65th St., Chicago, Ill.

The healing powers of San Cura Ointment are often remarkable. It gives relief, and is guaranteed to help bleeding, itching or protruding piles, burns, scalds, chapped hands and chilblains, or money refunded on the first jar if it fails to give satisfaction. All druggists. 35c, 60c and $1.25.

Lusk Wins Latin Honors In Tourney

Latin Tournament For Junior High Students Is Conducted Saturday

The semi-annual Latin Tournament for 9A Latin students in the local junior high schools was held at the Senior High School Saturday morning. The first place was won by Donald Lusk, Jr. of Moody avenue. This entitles Lusk to the Summa Cum Laude medal awarded by the Senior High School Senatus Romanus. The Magna Cum Laude medal goes to Jean Tinsley for second place and the Cum Laude medal to Virginia Louer for third rank. Excellent work was also done by Rose Katz and Lorraine Hook.

This is the sixth year that Senatus Romanus, the Senior High School honorary Latin club, has sponsored these contests for the on-coming sophomore class. As usual there was considerable interest in the event and twenty-five boys and girls of outstanding ability in the rudiments of Latin were registered for Saturday's tournament. They were as follows: Lois Aiken, Fannie Baron, Margaret Bechtel, Pearl Clark, Estelle Cukerbaum, Robert Evans, Margaret George, Robert Goldman, Ruth Hanna, Lorraine Hook, Rose Katz, Laura Keeling, Virginia Louer, Donald Lusk, Beatrice Martin, Pauline Mayer, Jack McConaghy, Bill McGary, Fred McWilliams, Ruth Mercer, Virginia Ramsey, Jean Tinsley, Irene Trick, George Waigo, Helen Wilson, Betty Wise.

Senatus Romanus members were in charge of the examinations. Ralph Davies, Consul Primus of the club, and Bertha Boya were supervisors of the events of the tournament. Beryl was Scribe for the occasion. The reviewers were: Abe Abraham, Lawrence Bennett, Marian Bergland, Armathea Bovard, Alma Broadbent, Olive Broadbent, Jane Bryan, Wallace Byers, Jean Copeland, Edythe Cowden, Cecelia Gasak, Eileen John, Lida Joseph, Gertrude Shaffer, Lena Silverman, John Thomas, James Thompson, Richard Warner, Robert Winger, Leon Wrona.

Withdrawals were 3 more than the preceding week. Operating privileges were restored to 77. Revocations this year to date total 2441 and suspensions 4155.

Deadly Contraption Kills Hunting Dog

Three Susquehanna County coon hunters recently had one of the most unusual experiences ever reported to the dog law enforcement division of the bureau of animal industry, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture. While hunting one night, their dog entered a corn field and was instantly killed by the discharge of a gun. Shot narrowly missing hitting one of the men in the party. No persons other than the three hunters could be found in the vicinity.

Investigation revealed three guns set and loaded with buck shot. Two guns were baited with meat and the third was set on a log in the woods with a wire running the full length of the log.

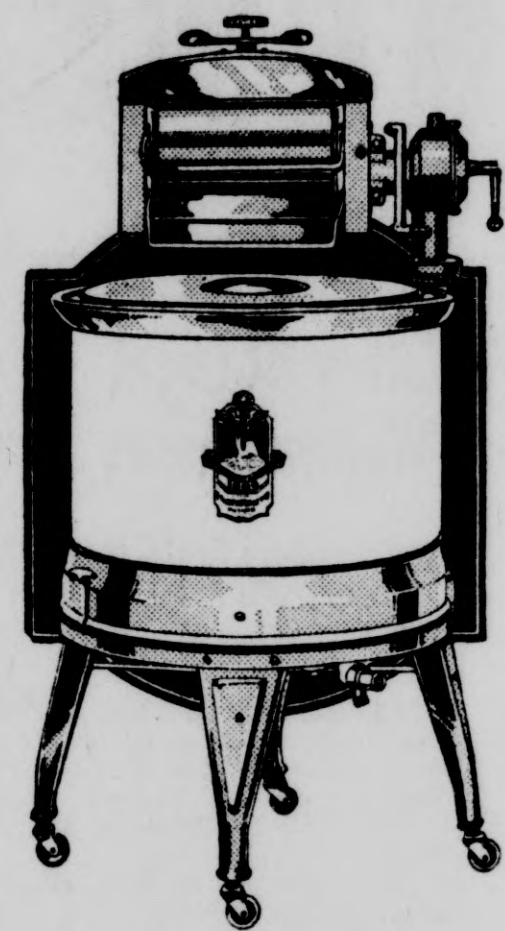

The dog killed was properly licensed and a State dog law enforcement agent was called in to investigate. The findings resulted in the owner being paid by the Commonwealth for the value of his dog.

The excuse given by the individual responsible for setting the guns was that he expected to kill a fox. He was sentenced to three months in the county jail.

Titulescuk Is Named Premier

Powerful Foreign Minister

In Many Rumanian Cabinets Now Rules As Premier

FORCES KING TO GRANT CONDITION

(International News Service)

BUCHAREST, Jan. 8.—A new dictator stepped upon the European stage today in the wake of the assassination of Premier Von Gu. Duca.

He was Nicholas Titulescuk, powerful foreign minister in many Rumanian cabinets, now actual director of the government. He forced King Carol to obey his wishes as the only condition upon which he would accept the foreign portfolio in the new government of Premier-Designate George Tatarescu.

Titulescuk asked and obtained the resignations of four of the king's closest aides, personal friends who had been installed in key positions of the government. In addition widespread changes were effected in the foreign office, the war office, and the police department.

Strongly Protest Nazi Control Of German Churches

(International News Service)

BERLIN, Jan. 8.—Unless banned in the meantime, a new series of protest meetings will be held in Lutheran churches of Germany tonight against Nazi control of religion. They will follow indignation sermons preached in hundreds of German Protestant pulpits yesterday.

The struggle is against Primate-elect Ludwig Mueller, friend of Chancellor Hitler and Nazi head of the German Evangelical church. The lead is being taken by Rev. Martin Niemöller, who wears an iron cross and commanded a submarine during the World War. In his Sunday sermon he declared paganism had entered the church and that Mueller had resorted to force.
